SUPPLEMENTAL JOINT CASE MANAGEMENT STATEMENT

Date: June 6, 2013

Time: 1:30 p.m.

Judge: Honorable Edward M. Chen

Pursuant to Civ. L.R. 16-9 and the Court's Standing Order, the below-signing parties respectfully submit the following Supplemental Joint Case Management Statement.¹

1. Jurisdiction and Service

The Declaratory Judgment Complaint ("DJ Complaint") filed by Plaintiff Nextdoor.com, Inc. ("Nextdoor.com") is within the Court's federal question jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1338, and 1367. Dkt. 1. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1291. Nextdoor.com, Inc. has completed service of the DJ Complaint, and no parties have raised any objection to venue or personal jurisdiction.

Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker submits that this Court has supplemental jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 over his counterclaim for trade secret misappropriation. Counterdefendants Benchmark Capital Partners, L.P. and Benchmark Capital Management Co., LLC have not yet been served with Abhyanker's counterclaim. Abhyanker is in the process of coordinating service on Counterdefendants Benchmark Capital Partners, L.P. and Benchmark Capital Management Co., LLC with their counsel.

2. Facts

Counterdefendants' Statement of Facts. Abhyanker alleges that he founded a company called Fatdoor ("Fatdoor") in late 2006 to pursue a neighborhood-based social networking business. Fatdoor operated a beta-website for this business at www.fatdoor.com for a short period of time before shutting down and eventually being acquired by Google (after changing its name and business model multiple times). In relation to this Fatdoor business, Abhyanker applied for trademarks for FATDOOR, FATDOOR GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS, and GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS. Abhyanker allegedly made attempts to obtain the domain name www.nextdoor.com in 2006 but was unable to do so. Fatdoor never launched any website using the name Nextdoor, and Abhyanker did not launch a website using the Nextdoor name until 2012.

¹ Counterdefendants Benchmark Capital Partners, L.P. and Benchmark Capital Management Co. LLC had not been served as of the filing of this statement and do not join in it.

1 Independently of Abhyanker, Plaintiff and Counterdefendant Nextdoor.com, along with 2 its co-founder Counterdefendant Prakash Janakiraman (“Janakiraman”), developed the concept
3 for an online social network designed to help neighbors connect in late 2010. In January of 2011,
4 they obtained the domain www.nextdoor.com to use for this website, and in February of 2011,
5 Nextdoor.com applied for a trademark in the NEXTDOOR mark. Nextdoor.com and 6 Janakiraman had no knowledge of Abhyanker’s alleged plans for a social network to be called 7 Nextdoor or his previous attempts to obtain the domain at this time.

8 In his Amended Counterclaim, Abhyanker alleges that he, independent of his company
9 Fatdoor, developed and owns various trade secrets related to an online social network to be called 10 Nextdoor. Abhyanker alleges that he disclosed those secrets to Counterdefendant Sandeep Sood 11 while he was a contractor working for Abhyanker in 2006 and 2007. Abhyanker also alleges that 12 he disclosed his Nextdoor-related trade secrets to Counterdefendant Benchmark Capital in 2007
13 in an effort to obtain funding for his Fatdoor entity. Abhyanker contends that both Sood and 14 Benchmark Capital then disclosed these trade secrets to Nextdoor.com and Janakiraman, and that 15 they used the secrets in developing their business. Counterdefendants deny this.

16 Based on this alleged misappropriation, Abhyanker filed an action for trade secret
17 misappropriation and various related causes of action in California Superior Court for the County
18 of Santa Clara (the “State Court Action”) in December 2011 against Nextdoor.com, Janakiraman, 19 two Benchmark Capital entities, and others. Facing demurrers in the State Court Action arguing,
20 inter alia, that Abhyanker had no standing or viable trade secrets, Abhyanker filed two 21 oppositions to Nextdoor.com’s application to register the NEXTDOOR mark in the Trademark
22 Trial and Appeal Board in early 2012. Those oppositions argued that Nextdoor.com’s mark
23 infringed the FATDOOR, FATDOOR GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOR, GET TO KNOW
24 YOUR NEIGHBOR, and NEXTDOOR marks all allegedly owned by Abhyanker. After filing 25 these oppositions, Abhyanker dismissed the State Court Action before the court could rule on the 26 defendants’ demurrers.

1 Around this same time in February 2012, Nextdoor.com alleges that Abhyanker, for 2 leverage in litigation against Nextdoor.com, registered the www.nextdoor.cm domain name and 3 began publicly using the NEXTDOOR mark for the first time. Based on these actions and 4 Abhyanker's allegations of infringement, Nextdoor.com filed this action for a declaration of non-
5 infringement and cybersquatting. Abhyanker has filed a Counterclaim and an Amended
6 Counterclaim again making his allegations of trade secret misappropriation now against 7 Nextdoor.com, Janakiraman, Sandeep Sood ("Sood"), Sood's company Monsoon Enterprises,
8 Inc. ("Monsoon"), Benchmark Capital Partners, L.P., and Benchmark Capital Management Co.
9 LLC.

10 Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker's Statement of Facts. Nextdoor.com, 11 Benchmark Capital, and the individuals associated with them have a pattern and practice of 12 building companies based on stolen information. This case is one example of their common 13 pattern and practice. Around September 2006, Abhyanker developed the concept of a private 14 online neighborhood social network for inventors to be called LegalForce, and a separate spin off
15 idea using the same code base called Nextdoor. In connection with his LegalForce and Nextdoor 16 concept, Abhyanker developed and owned trade secret information, a list of which is described in 17 Abhyanker's counterclaim. Abhyanker disclosed the trade secrets to Counterdefendants Sandeep
18 Sood, Monsoon Enterprises, and the Benchmark entities under obligations of confidentiality.
19 Despite their obligations of confidentiality, Sandeep Sood, Monsoon, and Benchmark disclosed
20 the trade secrets to Nextdoor.com and Prakash Janakiraman. Despite knowing that the trade 21 secret information was improperly acquired (and encouraging the improper disclosure),
22 Nextdoor.com and Janakiraman publicly launched the www.nextdoor.com online neighborhood
23 social network that uses and was built on the trade secrets misappropriated from Abhyanker.

24 3. Legal Issues

25 At this point in the case, Nextdoor.com, Prakash Janakiraman, and Monsoon submit that 26 the manner in which the case will proceed depends substantially on the resolution of the 27 following legal issues:

- Whether Nextdoor.com has priority of use for the NEXTDOOR mark for online social networking.
- Whether Abhyanker's use of the NEXTDOOR mark creates a likelihood of confusion with Nextdoor.com's mark.
- Whether Nextdoor's use of its NEXTDOOR mark creates any likelihood of confusion between Abhyanker's claimed FATDOOR, GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS, or FATDOOR GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS marks.
- Whether Abhyanker owns any rights in the NEXTDOOR, FATDOOR, GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS, or FATDOOR GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS marks.
- Whether Abhyanker registered the www.nextdoor.cm domain in a bad faith attempt to profit from Nextdoor.com's NEXTDOOR mark.
- Whether Abhyanker is the owner of any of the purported trade secrets he asserts in his Amended Counterclaim.
- Whether public disclosure of the "nextdoor.com" name in relation to an online neighborhood social network in a published patent application extinguished any trade secret rights in that concept Abhyanker may have had.
- Whether Monsoon and or Sood are subject to a contractual obligation of confidentiality to Abhyanker in connection with Abhyanker's purported trade secrets.
- Whether Monsoon and or Sood disclosed to Nextdoor.com or Janakiraman any of the purported trade secrets Abhyanker claims to own in his Amended Counterclaim.

Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker submits that there are no "disputed points of law." Abhyanker respectfully submits that the above bulleted list provided by Counterdefendants are not disputed points of law, but simply issues involving the application of law to facts that remain subject to dispute and discovery, and which need to be decided in the case.

4. Motions

1 Counterdefendants Nextdoor.com, Janakiraman, Monsoon, and Sood have pending
2 motions to dismiss Abhyanker's Amended Counterclaim with a hearing date of June 6, 2013.
3 Plaintiff and Counterdefendant Nextdoor.com also has a pending motion to strike Abhyanker's
4 affirmative defenses set for hearing on that date. Abhyanker has a pending motion to disqualify
5 Plaintiffs' Counsel, also set for hearing on June 6, 2013.

6 If their motion to dismiss is denied and Abhyanker's misappropriation claim stays in the 7 case, Nextdoor.com and Janakiraman anticipate filing a motion for summary judgment on 8 Abhyanker's Amended Counterclaim. Nextdoor.com also anticipates filing a motion for 9 summary judgment on its affirmative claims—including that Nextdoor.com has priority of use in 10 the NEXTDOOR mark, that Abhyanker's recent use of the NEXTDOOR mark is infringing, that 11 Abhyanker does not own any rights in the FATDOOR, GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS, 12 or FATDOOR GET TO KNOW YOUR NEIGHBORS marks, that Nextdoor's mark does not 13 infringe those marks, and that Abhyanker engaged in cybersquatting in registering and using the 14 www.nextdoor.cm domain.

15 If their motion to dismiss is denied and Abhyanker's misappropriation claim stays in the 16 case, Monsoon Enterprises, Inc. and Sood anticipate filing a motion for summary judgment on 17 Abhyanker's Amended Counterclaim.

18 Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker anticipates filing one or more motions for 19 summary judgment directed at Nextdoor.com's claims and/or Abhyanker's counterclaim.

20 5. Amendment of Pleadings

21 Plaintiff and Counterdefendant Nextdoor.com, Inc. does not currently plan to amend its 22 DJ Complaint, but may seek leave to do so depending on the fact learned through discovery.

23 At this time, Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker does not expect to amend its 24 pleading. However, Abhyanker notes that Counterdefendants Nextdoor.com, Prakash
25 Janakiraman, and Monsoon have filed motions to dismiss. In the event the motions are granted, 26 Abhyanker would respectfully ask the Court for leave to amend. In addition, Abhyanker may 27 seek to amend its pleading depending on facts learned through discovery.

1 6. Evidence Preservation

2 The parties have taken reasonable steps to preserve evidence.

3 7. Disclosures

4 The parties propose exchanging initial disclosures two weeks after the final
5 counterdefendant is served. Presently, counterdefendants Benchmark Capital Management, L.P
6 and Benchmark Capital Management Co. LLC remain to be served with the Amended
7 Counterclaim. Abhyanker is waiting for the Court to issue Summonses for the two remaining 8 Counterdefendants and will serve them shortly thereafter.

9 8. Discovery

10 Nextdoor.com served an initial set of requests for production and interrogatories on 11 Defendant Abhyanker on April 24, 2013. Responses to those requests were due on May 28, 12 2013. No other discovery has been taken.

13 The parties anticipate entering into a stipulated protective order.

14 Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker anticipates serving written discovery in May 15 2013 and notices of depositions thereafter. At this time, Abhyanker does not anticipate 16 modifications to the discovery rules, but reserves the right to request such modifications if 17 appropriate moving forward. As detailed in Section 17 below, Abhyanker respectfully submits
18 that it is premature to schedule discovery cutoffs because (i) Counterdefendants Benchmark 19 Capital Partners, L.P. and Benchmark Capital Management Co., LLC remain to be served and 20 have not had an opportunity to provide input into a discovery schedule and (ii) the discovery 21 schedule will be affected substantially by the outcome of the pending motions to dismiss, which 22 will determine whether Abhyanker's counterclaim for trade secret misappropriation remains in 23 the case.

24 9. Class Actions

25 Not applicable.

26 10. Related Cases

27 There are co-pending oppositions to Nextdoor.com's registration of its NEXTDOOR mark 28

1 in the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (“TTAB”) filed by Abhyanker (Opposition Nos.
2 31203462 and 91203762). Those opposition proceedings have been suspended pending the 3 outcome of this case.

4 11. Relief

5 Nextdoor.com’s DJ Complaint against Abhyanker seeks a declaration that Nextdoor.com
6 is lawfully using its NEXTDOOR mark and not infringing any trademark rights held by 7 Abhyanker; that Nextdoor.com has priority of use of the NEXTDOOR mark in the field of online
8 social networking; and that there is no likelihood of confusion between Nextdoor.com’s use of its 9 NEXTDOOR mark and any purported trademark rights of Abhyanker with respect to the terms
10 “fatdoor” or “fatdoor get to know your neighbors.” Nextdoor.com also seeks transfer of the 11 www.nextdoor.cm domain name; an award of statutory damages up to $100,000 for Abhyanker’s
12 registration and use of that domain; an award of Abhyanker’s profits from his infringing conduct;
13 an order enjoining Abhyanker from use of the NEXTDOOR mark, or any colorable imitation
14 thereof, in the field of online social networking; and Nextdoor.com’s costs and attorneys’ fees.

15 Monsoon and Sood seek to have the Abhyanker’s Amended Counterclaim dismissed with 16 prejudice, that Abhyanker take nothing by way of his counterclaim and for an award of Monsoon 17 and Sood’s costs and attorneys’ fees.

18 Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker seeks the following relief: (i) that 19 Nextdoor.com take nothing by its Complaint; (ii) that Nextdoor.com’s Complaint be dismissed
20 with prejudice; (iii) that Abhyanker be awarded his costs of suit and attorneys’ fees; (iv) that all 21 Counterdefendants be preliminarily and permanently enjoined from further disclosing or using 22 Abhyanker’s LegalForce/Nextdoor trade secrets, as well as Abhyanker’s confidential and 23 proprietary non-trade secret information, including, but not limited to, the nextdoor.com website
24 and domain name; (v) that Counterdefendant be enjoined from the practice of hiring and/or 25 placing Entrepreneurs in Residence (EIR) that the fund intends to invest in, and which have not 26 yet come up with a public business plan for their venture, to listen in on or participate in any way
27 in meetings involving other entrepreneurs pitching ideas to the fund in an area of technology

1 specialization that the EIRs intend to start a company of their own within and has not thought of 2 or publicly released; (vi) that the Court order Nextdoor.com to transfer the nextdoor.com domain
3 name to Abhyanker and order and direct VeriSign, Inc., the domain name registry for the 4 nextdoor.com domain name, to change the registrar of record for the nextdoor.com domain name
5 to a registrar selected by Abhyanker; (vii) on his trade secret misappropriation claim, that 6 Abhyanker recover damages for his actual loss caused by the misappropriation; (viii) on his trade
7 secret misappropriation claim, that Abhyanker recover for the unjust enrichment caused by 8 Counterdefendants' misappropriation; (ix) on his trade secret misappropriation claim, that 9 Abhyanker recover a reasonable royalty to the extent neither damages nor unjust enrichment are 10 provable; (x) on his trade secret misappropriation claim, that Abhyanker recover exemplary
11 damages; and (xi) that the Court order such further relief as it deems just and proper.

12 12. Settlement and ADR

13 There have been limited settlement discussions to date. The parties are in discussions to 14 determine whether they can agree to mediation through the Court's ADR unit. The parties 15 submitted a Notice of Need for ADR Phone Conference on April 19, 2013(Dkt. 61) and such 16 conference has been scheduled for May 6, 2013.

17 Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker is agreeable to mediation. In addition,
18 Abhyanker believes that any decisions regarding ADR should involve Counterdefendants 19 Benchmark Capital Partners, L.P. and Benchmark Capital Management Co., LLC. Abhyanker is 20 waiting for the Court to issue Summonses for these Counterdefendants and will serve them 21 shortly thereafter.

22 13. Consent to Magistrate Judge

23 Nextdoor.com, Prakash Janakiraman, and Monsoon do not consent to a Magistrate Judge.

24 Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker consents to have a magistrate judge conduct 25 all further proceedings, including trial and entry of judgment.

26 14. Other References

27 No other references are necessary.

1 15. Narrowing of Issues

2 As discussed above, Nextdoor.com, Prakash Janakiraman, and Monsoon believe the issues 3 can be narrowed through resolution of counterdefendants' motions to dismiss and strike, and/or 4 motions for summary judgment.

5 At this time, Defendant and counterclaimant Abhyanker does not believe that there are 6 issues that can be narrowed by agreement or motion, has no suggestions to expedite the 7 presentation of evidence at trial, and does not request to bifurcate any issues, claims, or defenses.

8 16. Expedited Schedule

9 The parties do not believe that this case is suitable for an expedited schedule.

10 17. Scheduling

11 Subject to the Court's calendar, Nextdoor.com, Prakash Janakiraman, and Monsoon
12 propose to set April 14, 2014 as a date to start trial; in accordance therewith, the parties propose 13 to set the following pretrial schedule:

- | | |
|--|---|
| 14 • Initial Disclosures: | Two weeks after service of Benchmark entities |
| 15 • Initial CMC | June 6, 2013 |
| 16 • Last day to amend pleadings: | August 1, 2013 |
| 17 • Fact Discovery Cutoff: | October 1, 2013 |
| 18 • Opening expert reports: | November 5, 2013 |
| 19 • Supplemental/Rebuttal | |
| 20 Expert Reports: | December 10, 2013 |
| 21 • Expert Discovery Cutoff: | December 20, 2013 |
| 22 • Last day to file dispositive motions: | January 13, 2014 |
| 23 • Dispositive Motion hearing date: | TBD |
| 24 • Final pretrial conference: | March 18, 2014 |
| 25 • Trial: | April 14, 2014 |
| 26 | |

27 Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker believes that it is premature to schedule a trial

1 date or discovery cutoffs because (i) Counterdefendants Benchmark Capital Partners, L.P. and 2 Benchmark Capital Management Co., LLC remain to be served and have not had an opportunity 3 to provide input into a schedule of dates and (ii) the schedule will be affected substantially by the 4 outcome of the pending motions to dismiss, which will determine whether Abhyanker's
 5 counterclaim for trade secret misappropriation remains in the case.

6 18. Trial

7 All parties have consented to a trial by jury. Based on the current knowledge of all
 8 parties, it is believed that the case should last between 8 to 10 days of trial based on the Court's 9 current published trial scheduling procedures.

10 19. Disclosure of Non-Party Interested Entities

11 All parties have made the required disclosures.

12 Plaintiff and Counterdefendant Nextdoor.com has no parent corporation and no publicly 13 held corporation is known to own 10% or more of Nextdoor.com's stock.

14 Counterdefendant Monsoon has no parent corporation and no publicly held corporation is 15 known to own 10% or more of Monsoon's stock.

16 Pursuant to Civil Local Rule 3-16, Defendant and Counterclaimant Abhyanker certifies
 17 that, as of this date, other than the named party, there is no such interest to report.

18 20. Other Matters

19 There are no other matters the Court should address at this Case Management Conference.
